Profile

I've been in the professional development scene since 2014, focusing mainly on Front-end development. Over the years, I've had the chance to work with all sorts of companies, big and small. When it comes to projects, I'm a big fan of using JavaScript, especially within the Vue.js framework. A lot of what I do involves handling CRUD operations and tinkering with RESTful APIs. It's been an exciting journey!

Experience

FRONT-END DEVELOPER, SCALED-AGILE, ZÜRICH-SWITZERLAND, 07/2021-12/2021
APP: PIPLANNING.IO

Piplanning. Io is a pi planning app that facilitates the safe (scaled agile framework) pi (program increment) planning process. The app aims to enhance communication and collaboration during planning sessions by providing a digital platform replicating the experience of using physical stickies and boards while minimizing automation to preserve the essence of human interaction and decision-making in the planning process.

Used technologies: Vue.js, Vuex, Pinia, axios, Vue Router, Typescript

In my capacity, I designed and developed a range of views and components, integrating intricate logic for content filtering and introducing a novel authentication process. Additionally, I crafted engaging user interfaces with a strong focus on sticky interactions, ensuring a seamless and interactive experience. Throughout this process, I rigorously conducted unit and end-to-end testing to guarantee optimal functionality and user satisfaction.
